You can request information about how we process your data, or exercise your right to have such data corrected, deleted or its collection restricted or blocked any time—insofar as this is permissible and does not conflict with other legal obligations.

Please contact our team, if you have any further questions or comments. If we are unable to help, please feel free to contact the data protection authority assigned to us at any time.

Personal data are used to process and implement the requests for quotes and orders you send to us, or other business transactions (purchasing, co-operations, etc.), and they are used for documentation purposes in our systems. We treat your information confidentially.

We only request personal information that we need to complete the business transaction with you, or data that is legally required. We delete your data as soon as the legally prescribed retention periods have ended, or when we no longer need them for other reasons.

If, within the scope of providing our services to you, or doing business with you, we need to subcontract third parties—such as logistic companies—your data will be passed on to the extent necessary. If there are legal regulations requiring the provision of your data, for example to the authorities, we will fulfil such obligations.

Furthermore, we employ service providers who manage our computer and telephone systems and help us provide our services to you. However, they may only process your data according to our instructions.

You may exercise your right to request information about how we process your data, or exercise your right to have such data corrected, deleted or its collection restricted—insofar as this does not conflict with the legal documentation requirements. To do so, please contact our data protection officer.

Please contact our team if you have any further questions or comments. If we are unable to help, you may file a complaint with the data protection authority assigned to us at any time.

The transfer of information via e-mail poses a risk in terms of confidentiality. If you choose to contact us via e-mail despite this risk, we understand that by doing so you are also consenting to us contacting you via e-mail.

We may contact you via e-mail to send you information regarding our dealings or to send you our offers (§7 UWG—German Fair Trade Practices Act). You may, however, object to this at any time.
